

Addressing housing poverty of young people through education

Pete Mackie and Rhian Jones

Shelter Cymru

17th October 2007

1. Workshop summary

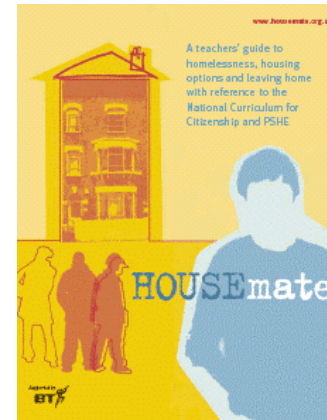

- Recent housing research with young people in poverty
- Shelter Cymru's education service
- Discussion

2. Recent research

- Need more suitable accommodation
- Need more training and employment opportunities
- Young people often aren't ready to live on their own
- Young people aren't always treated with respect when accessing housing advice
- There isn't enough information about the available support
- Information and support should be made more accessible

3. SC Education Service

- Housemate

- www.housemate.org.uk
- New materials for 2008 – distribution strategy

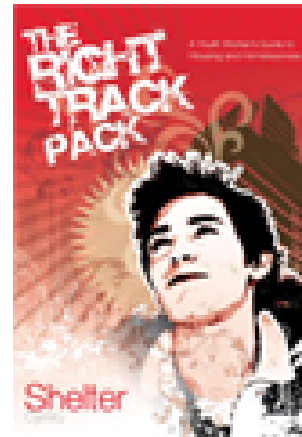

3. SC Education Service

- Peer Learning

3. SC Education Service

- The Right Track Pack

- Equinex project – educating front line staff

Equality & Diversity Toolkits

<http://equality.newport.ac.uk>

- How can housing information and support be made more readily available to young people in poverty?
- How can we work more effectively in partnership to address housing poverty?

Addressing housing poverty of young people through education

Pete Mackie and Rhian Jones

Shelter Cymru