

Brexit: Implications for Children's Rights

An Update

Sean O'Neill
Policy Director
CPG July 2018

Brexit: Implications for Children's Rights

No roll back on the existing rights of children & young people in Wales as part of the Brexit negotiation process

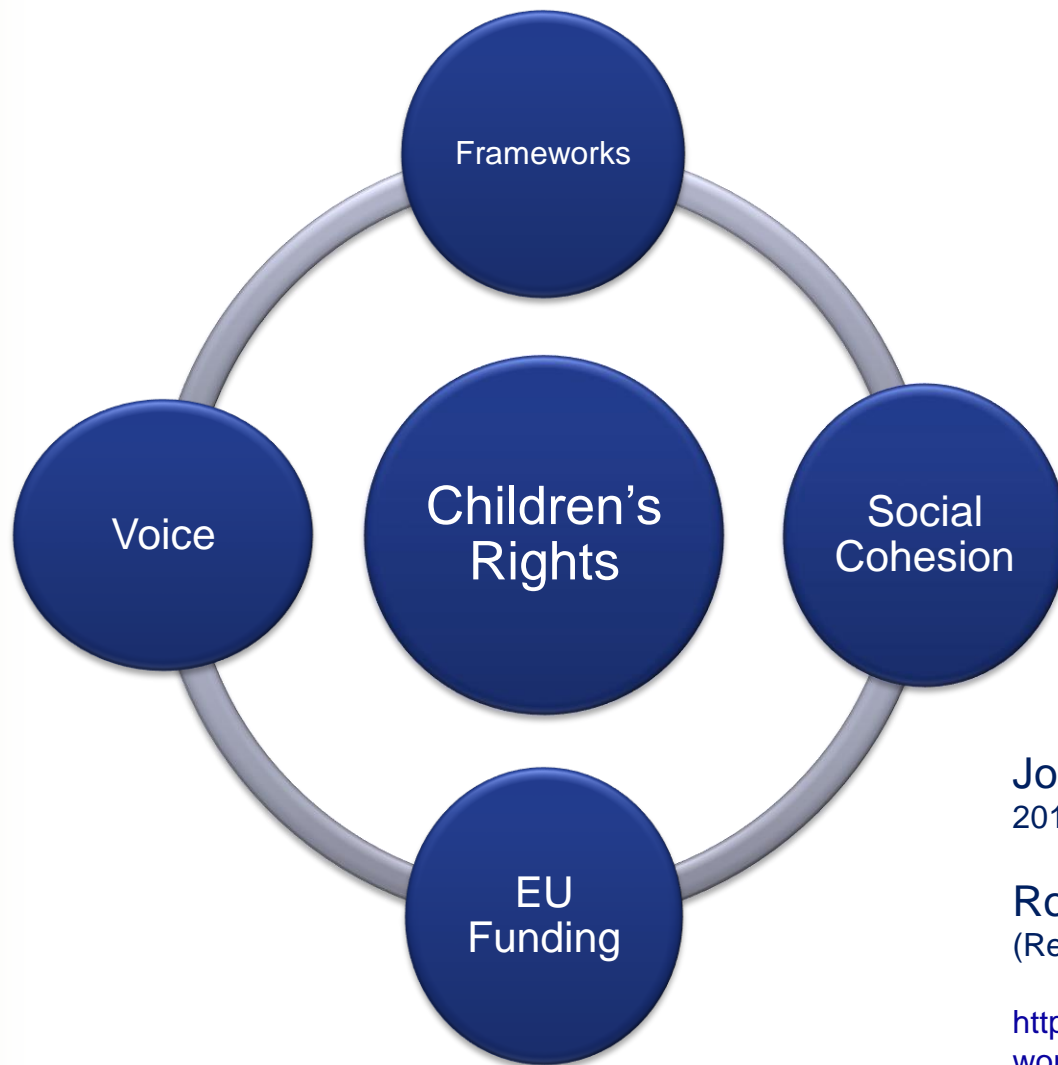

No roll back on the existing rights of children & young people following date of departure (Inc. transition period)

That children & young people have mechanisms in place for their voices to be heard as part of the Brexit process

That opportunities are in place for the engagement of the children's workforce

That compliance with the UNCRC is maintained by all decision makers throughout the process
