Make Your Mark 2019 Launch

On 23 August 2019, the UK Youth Parliament (UKYP) will launch their Make Your Mark ballot for young people across the UK. In Wales, this is facilitated by Children in Wales' participation initiative, Young Wales.

Organisations throughout Wales will receive their electronic resources pack on Friday afternoon, allowing them to distribute the ballots.

The ballot allows young people to choose their national campaigns for 2019, and decide what they want to debate when the UKYP has their annual sitting in November at the House of Commons.

Through youth forums and councils, youth organisations, schools, colleges and online, the ballot will provide an opportunity for young people to participate in democracy, telling their elected Members of Youth Parliament what's important to them.

Last year, over 1.1 million young people took part in the ballot last year across the UK, with a record number of ballots returned in Wales; 54,079.

For more information about the ballot, please visit the UKYP website.

Advocacy standards and outcomes framework for children and young people

The Welsh Government has published guidance on the standards advocacy providers must meet when they provide advocacy for children and young people.

The Independent Professional Advocacy: National Standards and Outcomes Framework for Children and Young People in Wales set out what's required of advocacy providers during the delivery of their service.

The Framework sets out what outcomes children and young people can expect during advocacy. It sets out what standards the providers need to meet and to show that they are making a positive difference to children and young people's lives.

The standards include, amongst other things, easily accessible good quality independent advocacy, respect for children's privacy and confidences and having their wellbeing and safeguarding protected.

The Framework builds on and replaces the National Standards for the provision of Children's Advocacy Services (2003).

For the latest news and policy please visit the Children in Wales.
